

WHIDBEY ISLAND GENEALOGICAL SEARCHERS

OAK HARBOR, WASHINGTON

PRESENTS Maureen MacDonald

“1880-1900 – FILL IN THE GAP”

The Federal Censuses are often the beginning steps to researching our family history. The gap between 1880-1900 can seem insurmountable as most of the 1890 census burned. We have other resources available to us, including state censuses, city directories, and other census forms.

Maureen is a graduate of Sarah Thorson-Little's University of Washington Genealogy class. The class is both time-consuming and rewarding and is highly recommended for serious genealogists. One of Maureen's prime interests is census information. Maureen has been performing in-depth genealogy research since 1980, digging deeper every year and finding many treasures along with basic information and supporting records.

All are invited to join us for this free educational program.
