OAK HARBOR, WASHINGTON

Presents
Barbara Gorham Johnson

CELTIC
RESEARCH

Do you have Celtic ancestry? Did your DNA test tell you so? Was it part of your family story? Whether or not you know very little or more about your Celtic genealogy, this program can add to your knowledge base. There are several on-line resources for both Irish and Scottish research. Some new sources have recently become available which Barbara will discuss. She will also touch on a bit of Celtic history as it is pertinent to researching one's genealogy.

Barbara has been researching her family tree for over 20 years and has often traveled to the Family History Library in Salt Lake City as well as her ancestors' homelands to continue her research, most recently to the British Isles and Eastern Europe. Barbara speaks frequently to local genealogical societies about DNA and Genealogy as well as other genealogical topics. She has a degree in Microbiology, has done research at the University of Washington, taught science with the Pacific Science Center, and is a retired Park Ranger. She lives in Mount Vernon and is active in the Skagit Valley Genealogical Society, Clan Johnston/e in America and the Celtic Arts Foundation.

All are invited to join us for this free educational program.
