Cary Bright

a ZOOM presentation on

"HOW DNA RESULTS can be helpful to your FAMILY HISTORY RESEARCH"

DNA is passed down from our ancestors to their descendants in a pattern that can help prove and disprove an expected biological relationship. These relationships are highly probable for the first 3 generations and possible for some of your Genetic Tree for up to 5 generations. Learn which DNA test will offer evidence for solving a brick wall or adding more bricks!

Cary Bright is the co-founder of the Seattle Genealogy Society DNA Interest Group and serves as the co-chair since 2009. She loves helping other adult learners have aha moments with genealogy education and DNA. Her 34-year career in nursing helped spark her interest in DNA and Genetic Genealogy. Cary is the administrator of 9 DNA tests and wishes there was just more time to organize those matches. She has completed the SLIG Virtual All-DNA and Advanced Evidence Analysis Practicum and speaks regularly on DNA topics.
