CELIA MCNAY

A ZOOM presentation on

“FamilySearch.org Research Wiki A Genealogist’s Secret Weapon”

Are you just starting your family history journey or do you want to up your research skills? The Research Wiki at FamilySearch.org contains a wide variety of resources, forms, contact organizations and tools. It is also a place where experienced researchers have established pages sharing information about their specialty area. This presentation will explore the whole range of aids available to users, both beginners and experienced researchers.

This Zoom presentation will be given by Celia McNay, Past President of the Eastside Genealogical Society and LDS Family History Consultant. Celia has been doing genealogy and researching family history for over 30 years and has taught for the Bellevue Regional Library in the “Genealogy Boot Camp,” at the Fiske Library, the Family History Expo, and given many presentations to local genealogical societies.
